Holiday Décor on Display

Top designers create lavish holiday designs for charity.

Those still looking for inspiration for holiday décor are in luck thanks to some of the area's top tastemakers. The lights and shapes of Christmas trees, holiday mantels, a menorah and other décor, designed by some of Washington's top interior designers, are on display.

The designers donated their time to create festive displays for an event called "Light Up the Season" to benefit for Children's National Health System. The designs were unveiled earlier this month at a festive event that included activities such as holiday cookie decorating, ornament making, a visit from Santa and Children's National Dr. Bear mascot, musical performances and youth entertainers, silent auction.

Each original piece is a collaboration between patients of Children's National and area designers and businesses. The Creative & Therapeutic Arts Services at Children's National worked with the Children's Health Board to pair designers with patients for inspiration.

The holiday decor will be on display and available for purchase at the Four Season Hotel in Georgetown through Dec. 20.
